All funds raised will benefit the new Honor Guard Training Facility on Luke Air Force Base. Fighter Country Foundation is a 501(c)3 tax exempt non profit, talk to your accountant about supporting our mission and saving money on your taxes. No federal endorsement intended.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION

Fighter Country Foundation is dedicated to supporting the men, women, families, and mission of Luke Air Force Base. This is accomplished through programs which fund Morale & Wellness, Mission Sustainability, and Culture & Tradition initiatives. Fighter Country Foundation is the primary non-government liason between Luke Air Force Base and the Valley of the Sun, which connects the base to local community leaders, business owners, and resources.

Fighter Country Foundation is a 501 (c) 3 tax exempt, national non-profit charitable foundation. Speak to your accountant about your ability to write off all of your support of this event and the Fighter Country Foundation Mission.

ABOUT THE CAUSE

The Luke Honor Guard is a uniformed group of men and women who present the flags at a variety of ceremonial occasions. They are Luke Air Force Base's most visible presence in the community – annually performing more than 800 funerals and 144 other color guard details that include retirements, POW/MIA table ceremonies, sporting events, and more.

The Honor Guard is composed of volunteers who, in addition to their regular duties, respond to honor calls within a 52,000-square-mile area of Arizona – from Page to Yuma and from Parker to Globe.

Unlike most Air Force installations, Luke's Honor Guard does not have a dedicated space for training or storage. They learn, drill and practice year-round outside in the elements, including the Arizona summer heat after spending lengthy and demanding periods of time supporting important events in their community.

Fighter Country Foundation has secured $500,000 toward the goal of $1,750,000 to build a dedicated Honor Guard Training Facility. It will include an air-conditioned 3,300-square-foot space for training, storage, and administration, and an adjacent covered area for larger detail training and drill – finally giving these dedicated individuals a place of their own.

All proceeds from this event go towards this project. Help us support them as they honorably serve Luke Air Force Base and the State of Arizona.
